

WHO SHOULD GET THE SEASONAL INFLUENZA (FLU) VACCINE

The influenza vaccine protects against viruses that cause seasonal influenza, often called the flu. The vaccine does not protect against other viruses or bacteria that cause colds or stomach illness such as “stomach flu.”

Influenza, often called seasonal flu, is an infection of the nose, throat and lungs caused by the influenza virus. A person with influenza is at risk of other infections, including viral or bacterial pneumonia (infections of the lungs). Influenza spreads easily from person to person through coughing, sneezing, or having close face-to-face contact. The virus can also be spread when a person touches an object contaminated with the influenza virus and then touches his or her mouth or nose.

In BC, the following groups are eligible for the free annual vaccination:

- ◆ Children and adults with chronic health conditions and their household contacts
- ◆ Healthy children aged 6 to 23 months
- ◆ Household contacts and caregivers of infants aged 0 to 23 months
- ◆ Pregnant women who will be in their 3rd trimester during the influenza season
- ◆ People 65 or older and their caregivers
- ◆ Residents of nursing homes and other chronic care facilities
- ◆ Health care workers
- ◆ Emergency responders
- ◆ People who work with poultry and swine
- ◆ Employees and inmates at BC correctional facilities
- ◆ Those who provide care or service in potential outbreak settings housing high risk persons (e.g. crew on ships)

Influenza vaccine is available through health units and physicians. The vaccine is free for anyone in the above groups.
